North Central Indiana Region Awarded Workforce Development Grant

LAFAYETTE (Sept. 8, 2005) – North Central Indiana has been awarded a grant from the Indiana Department of Workforce Development as part of a program aimed at creating new jobs and increasing personal income for Hoosiers. North Central Indiana was awarded $221,474 as part of more than $2.6 million in grants in the initial phase of the Innovating Indiana Strategic Skills Initiative. Introduced earlier this year, the $23 million Strategic Skills Initiative program works with Indiana's 11 regions to identify key skills gaps in high-wage, high demand occupations.

Representatives from business, education, labor, economic and workforce development throughout the North Central Indiana developed the plan under the leadership of the Tecumseh Area Partnership (TAP). The North Central Indiana plan will build on the work TAP has already begun of identifying and quantifying short-term and long-term skills shortages, and create and implement regional solutions. According to grant proposal, the initial funding North Central Indiana has been awarded will help the region move forward with a fully integrated regional workforce strategy that leverages the strengths of the area's strongest industries and meets the needs of the future workforce needs to make North Central Indiana globally competitive.

"Historically, Indiana has struggled to effectively address skill shortages, and this has resulted in a loss of jobs and wages lower than the national average," said Indiana Workforce Development Commissioner Ron Stiver. "Governor Mitch Daniels has charged our agency with identifying innovative ways to help increase jobs and personal income for Hoosiers. This initiative enables us to anticipate skills and occupational shortages, identify their root causes, and implement realistic solutions for prevention of job loss, retention of regional talent and attraction of jobs paying competitive wages."

The announcement rewards Region 4, comprised of Benton, White, Cass, Miami, Howard, Tipton, Clinton, Tippecanoe, Warren, Fountain, Montgomery and Carroll counties, with a grant worth $221,474 for their work on the initial phase of the Innovating Indiana Strategic Skills Initiative.

"Helping to create high paying jobs for Hoosiers is our top priority," said Roger Feldhaus, Executive Director of the Tecumseh Area Partnership. "These funds will be utilized to ensure that our region be able to identify the workforce needs of our specific counties and will help establish long-lasting and high paying jobs for our citizens."

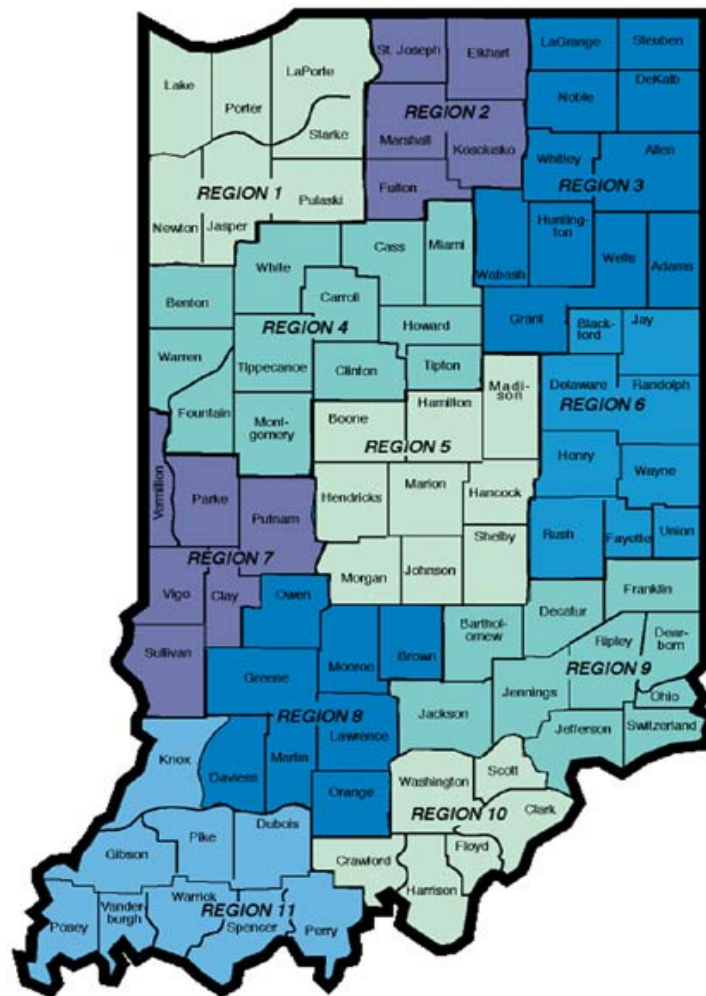

Regions will now begin Phase II and compete for the remaining $20 million to create new jobs, reduce skill gaps, and increase Hoosier income. Regions will compete for these funds and be held accountable for achievements in their two-year action plans.
